MISERY PREVAILING IN OKLAHOMA.

The Boomers Gathered In Crowds Waiting Something to Turn Up-The First Death-Other Notes.

CHICAGO, April 25 .- An Arkansas City, Kan.. special says: Chaos reigns not only in Oklahoma, but in the entire tributary country. The railroad is prostrated, and communications re entirely cut off. The Western Union, with rush of train dispatching, would not touch a message of any other character in the territhough it swallowed a town site. Guthrie's back seems broken, and there is a furious stampede to get out. People there are wild from deprivations that lack of shelter, water and food impose upon them. To these distresses are added the misfortunes of tempest, heat and the absence of means of flight.
When your correspondent reached Willey
Springs from Diamond Bar ranch, he learned from dispatches that neither the north nor south-bound passenger trains, shortly due, had been heard from. The hour of waiting passed when a train of twenty cattle cars crept up from the south. The cars were locked, but upon the roofs, the buffers, and coal on the tender, on the pilot and gangway of the loco-motive, and packed in and upon the caboose was a dense and

MISERABLE THRONG OF MEN. The train from Guthrie had started with its strange load at 6 o'clock in the evening. It was useless to attempt to enforce the laws re strictive of railroad travel. The people were fleeing practically for their lives. They had added to long periods of privation and suffering of seventeen hours without food or protect tion from cold. No trains had passed them and none were in sight behind. They had left the howling mob in Guthrie, bafiled in its efforts to join in the flight. The uselessness of proceeding to Guthrie was apparent and the correspondent secured a footing for one foot and returned to this point with the laggard Since dark other freight trains have followed, having made the eighty-five miles from Guthrie in from six to fourteen hours. The cars are plled with fugitives, thirsty and famine-stricken, and Arkansas City is as crowded as it was before the descent. Some experiences are pitiful. The terrible storm last night raised the miseries of Guthrie to al-most a horror. A violent wind arose as the sun sunk and filled the air

WITH STIFLING RED ALKALI DUST that strews the plain. A deluge of rain succeeded and through the night it beat upon thousands of the shelterless. The railroad is utterly incompetent in the emergency, and is ivering baggage and express too slowly to be of use to the unprotected.

The fugitives cheer with joy as they alight here and rush to hydrants and eating houses. Curses are heaped upon the region and government marshals, Needles and Jones, are execrated without stint for theft of land, and the railroad is denounced for its feeble service

Guthrie is without form. The original streets have disappeared and new sections are being plowed every hour. Values have fallen to practically nothing, and confidence is at a low ebb. Those who are not going home announce their intentions of moving upon the Cherokee strip, and reported that hundreds of boomers in wagons have already done so. Scores of men surrendered their claims to lots in Guthrie, without an effort to preserve or dispose of them. The south bound passenger train arrived after time, crowded with pilgrims for Guthrie, and few could be dissuaded by the lamentations of the fugitives. It is impossi-ble to predict what the next few days will de-

HARD TIMES AT GUTHRIE.

Poor Mail Facilities-Food and Water Very

Scarce. ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., April 25 .- General Merritt's report of the numbers in Oklahoma is incomprehensible. The estimate here that fully 15.000 people are now in Guthrie and more than 50,000 in the territory. Nearly twice as many as he allows for the whole territory left this place at one time, and are still pouring in.

FACILITIES FOR GETTING NEWS here are no better than two days ago. All matter has to be sent by messenger to Arkansas City. The best time from there is eight furs, and news is necessarily that much There is little outside of inc The corps of surveyors was yesterday increased to four and work began in the afternoon. All attention is paid to this work, as on it depends every lot-owner's claim. PROVISIONS CONTINUE SCARCE.

bread, five cent loaves selling at fifteen cents or two for a quarter. The supply ran out, and while the people were willing to pay exorbitant prices, it could not be had at all. Cracktant prices, it could not be had at all. Crackers found ready sale at a dollar and a half per pound. A grocer announced that he had given fifty dollars for the privilege of breaking open the car which contained his stock. He soon made it up. The inconvenience caused by the blockade of freight here, is beyond computation. It gets worse instead of better. Freight and express baggage increase with each train, and the lack of help prevents prompt distribution. The water question continues a scrious one. Before the end of the week wells will be sunk. Despite the fact that every train takes out a number of dissatisfied settlers, every train brings in as many more, so there is no change in the actual so there is no change in the actual fumber here. The lot question continues to be the all important one. The class of inen who were on the ground before the hour of opening, and were standing together, will be hard to out from their lots, but the goods are determined. but the people are determined. Filing con-tinues slow. It has never reached one hun-dred any day.

THE ORDER HERE IS PHENOMENAL.

No whisky is to be bought. A gentleman who is now speculating on lots has the promise of the agency of one eastern brewer for the entire territory, and he is banking on great profits. The sun is very hot, and where the sod has been spaded or plowed up the soil is mealy and blows in every direction. Prominent citizens are dirty, and the scarcity of water prevented cleanliness. Citizens' meetings are held three times per day. Chairman Constantine is so hourse that he can hardly speak. The demands of the people in Guthric for railroad service to get out are accumulating, and are becoming so urgent that trouble caused by an operators carlessness, has made the Santa Fe road very cautious. The wreck, from the accounts of eye witnesses, is much worse than was reported. Both engines were tile got away and were lost in the timber de la got away and were lost in the timber d. Half a mile of track built around the rock is still used. The posted number of titlers on the Cherokee strip is exargerated dly a few are camping more than two days a three.

Some will fell hands on the Cherokee strip, others will go down into the Chickasaw country and lease farms from the Indians. That country is being rapright, or lease for the privilege of tilling the soil there. The country is as much superior o Oklahoma as is the Cherokee outlet, tand there is a great deal of complaint among the boomers that the poorest land in the Indian territory should have been the only land opened to settlement.

Despite this discouragement, however, many has arisen where two men settled quarter sections not five minutes apart. The first arrival claimed possession by priority. The second made improvements, and claimed that it was the improvements which perfected the right of occupation. This case will doubtless be taken to the land office for settlement.

As illustrating the ingratitude of the republic, it may be mentioned that contests are already filed against the claim of Captain Couch, the old boomer leader, on the curious ground that he disqualified himself from making entry by entering the territory years ago on boom expeditions. General James B. making entry by entering the territory years ago on boom expeditions. General James B. Weaver, of Iowa, one of the most persistent advocates of the opening of Oklahoma in congress, has also had his claim contested and has been accused of attempting to take the people by the throat. Old time boomer leaders have not fared well. Any number of Payne's men can be found now lying around Purcell who have been outridden and outrun by men who have taken the fruit of their years of sacrifice. Most of them take it philosophically.

BUT IT MEANS BLOOD,

BUT IT MEANS BLOOD, and the murdered boy of 19 who was shot when found in possession of one of these claims, owes his death to that injustice, whether he was partly responsible for it or not. The man who killed him had worked it for his own for years past.

It is broadly hinted at Purcell that the old colonists there could point out the murderer, and that instead of doing so, assisted him to escape into Texas. Twenty claims have been deserted in one neighborhood, and last night, in the depot at Oklahoma City, a broken homesteader offered to sell lais claim for $25. The contest and excitement over town sites continue, and much trouble is promised for the future. the future.

BRINGING ORDER OUT OF CHAOS. Guthrie is thriving. A dozen new and sub-stantial houses have been erected, and the sound of the hammer greets one on every side. Two banks are doing a good business side. Two banks are doing a good business and at the postofice things are running more smoothly. Congressman Weaver, of Iowa, was here today, and addressed a large crowd, advising the settlers to organize and provide for local government at once.

This afternoon the committee on public order, consisting of twenty-eight settlers, representing as many different states and territories held a meeting and appointed a corps of official surveyors, who are to survey and plot the town. Silas Anderson was appointed city official, with six assistants. The laws of Kansas and the nunicipal regulations of Wichita were selected to prevail until a charter can be obtained. Judge E. M. Clarke was appointed provisional police judge. To supply water it was ordered that a public well be dug on each half section of the town plot.

The citizens of West Guthrie held an election yesterday. James Dooley, of Iowa, was elected mayor, and a full ticket, including councilmen, was chosen.

IMPORTANT EVIDENCE IS PRODUCED.

Hawes Proven to Have Been at Fanny Bryant's On the Fatal Night-The Evening Ride On the Dummy.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 25 .- [Special.]-Little progress was made today in the Hawes murder trial: Two hours of the morning ses-sion of the court were taken up by argument on the question of admitting the testimony, showing the probability of May Hawes having been a witness of the murder of her mother and sister, thus establishing a motive for killing her. Judge Greene ruled that such evience was not competent, at least at this time. At three o'clock in the afternoon

ONE OF THE JURORS WAS TAKEN ILL and court was adjourned until tomorrow Four witnesses for the state were examined

Sarah Lett, a colored woman, was the first. She testified in substance as follows: "I know Dick Hawes; I knew May Hawes and saw the body at the under-taker's shop and identified it; I saw her alive the last time on Monday night, December 3, at Fannie Bryant's house, between 6 and 7 o'clock. I was at the house half an hour before any one came. Hawes came to the house and said to May: " 'Daughter, you thought I was not coming,

Fannie asked him when he would get back, and he said he would be back. Tuesday or Wednesday. Hawes then took May by the left hand, and they left the house."

Witness then described the dress and hat worn by May on that night, and identified the nat when it was shown her. On cross-examination the witness said that the hat looked very much like the one worn by May. Getting Up a Scheme for the Removal of

Democrats. Washington, April 25.—[Special.]—The oractical politics of First Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson promise to outweigh the nservatism of Brother Wanamaker. While the latter is in Philadelphia, instructing his Sunday-school class about the golden rule, his first assistant is equally busy fixing up schemes to decapitate democratic postmasters. Postmaster-General Wanamaker has shown too much of a disposition to permit democratic postmasters to serve out their terms to suit Mr. Clarkson, and today he appealed to the president. His proposition was to evoke some plan of removal that would give all the principal offices of the coun-try to republicans before congress reassembled in the fall. Clarkson holds that the elections this fall will have a bearing upon the next election for congressmen. If the republicans behold in their midst any large number of democratic heldovers they will be apathetic and the democrats will profit thereby. Clark-son is working night and day on fourth-class postmasters, but he cannot make recommendations in regard to presidential offices. The matter will be discussed at the cabinet meeting to-morrow, and Brother Wanamaker will be given an opportunity for an expression of

THE LITTLE UNPLEASANTNESS between the president and the secretary of the interior over the candidacy of Ex-Governor. Stone, of Iowa, for land commissioner was to-day settled through the intervention of Senator Allison. It was agreed that Stone should be made deputy commissioner, and that the first place should be held until some lawyer of the requisite ability could be found who would accept the position of commissioner at the existing salary. Stone has been promised a promotion in case the appointee resigns. Ordinarily there would have been no difficulty about the appointment, because Stone is not formidable as a lawyer, and his selection would not have been construed as dangerous by the western railway corporations, who are more interested in the land office than in other bereaus of the govern-ment. Just now, however, there promises to be an extraordinary number of complicated cases to be settled by the land office growing out of the settlement of the new territory of Oklahoma. It will take a great head to determine all the questions relating to claims in this territory, and the president is not inclined to appoint any third rate lawyer.

It accuses the city of Atlanta with gros negligence in not tearing down the walls of the Jackson building Tuesday and averting the sad catastrophe of Wednesday afternoon, when two brave firemen lost their lives.

The verdict reads: "We, the jury empanuelled to inquire into the cause of the death of Flarry O. Howell and W. P. Leach find, from the evidence adduced, that they came to their death by the accidental falling of the west wall of the Jackson building, on the corner of Alabama and Pryor streets, while in the discharge of their duties as firemen: and while we attach no especial blame to any individual we consider that the city of Atlanta has been guilty of gross neglect in not tearing down those walls by Tuesday noon. And we desire to express our strongest condemna-tion of such ordinances of the city as made such neglect possible, and urge the necessity of the immediate repeal of the same." James Shaw, J. E. Hoft, D. L. Pitts, Robert West, J. J. Duffey, James Osler, E. B. Thomas, Foreman, J. C. Billingslea, T. J. Ragland, F. E. DeBroy, J. L. Patterson, A. J. Stewart.

The Testimony. Dr. J. C. Avary summoned the jury yester-day, and after they had viewed the bodies of the dead firemen, they repaired to No. 1 engine house at three o'clock to take testimony.

Mrs. Leach was represented by Arnold & Arnold and Mr. Albert Howell appeared for Mrs. Howell, Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson appeared for Captain Harry Jackson and Mayor John T. Glenn represented the city.

The first witness examined was Mr. A. C.

Bruce, architect and city inspector of build-Mr. Bruce testified to having gone with Mr. Irby and Mr. Leo, in response to a communication from Mayor Glenn, to examine the condition of the walli on Tuesday morning early.
They found that the walls were in a dangerous condition, and so reported to the mayor, which report was published in THE Constitution Wednesdy morning. Mr. Bruce did not think that the walls could have been pulled down Monday, and believed that every-thing was done that could have been done to have them taken down. He thought that two days was a reasonable time in which to have got ready for the work, and that more than half a day would have been consumed in the work.

MR. LEO'S OPINION. Mr. Gustavej E. Leo, architect and inspector, testified that they found the western wall leaning inward one and a half feet, and the other walls leaning inward, something like a crushed paper box. He considered the walls dangerous, and hoped that no one would enter the building until they were taken down. So strong was he impressed with the fear of an accident that he took personal pains to get the inspector's report into the papers as early as possible, so the building. Still he thought that Cantain Jackson had done all that could be done toward taking them down.

MAYOR GLENN'S STATEMENT. On taking the stand Mayor Glenn said that so soon as Chief Joyner came to his office Monday afternoon and told him that he thought steps ought to be taken to throw down the walls, he issued the order to the city engineer and building inspectors to examine the ruins and report on their condition. As soon as they reported on Tuesday morning, he decided that the emergency demanded immediate action. Thereupon he sent the following order to Captain Jackson:

Henry Jackson.—Dear Sir: From the report of the building inspectors and the city engineer, I deem it my duty for the safety of the people of this city to direct that the walls standing on your lot, corner of Alabama and Pryor streets, be taken down at once. Respectfully, John T. Glenn, Mayor.

To this order Captain Jackson responded at once expressing a desire to have the matter attended to at once. His reply was as fol-

Mayor John T. Glenn—Dear Sir: I beg to ac knowledge the receipt of your favor of this date in reference to the walls of the building on the corner of Alabama and Pryor streets, consumed in the fire Sunday, April 21. They will be at once taken down to a point where absolute safety to the citizens of Atlanta will be secured. Mr. J. A. Carbolly, a competent builder, and Mr. F. G. Lind, a competent architect, have been employed and will give their immediate attention to the matter. Work there will be commenced without a moment's delay and pushed as rapidly as possible. I appreciate the danger at present existing and hasten to remedy it. Yours respectfully, Hayay Jackson.

THE FOURTHEN DAY LIMIT.

Mayor Glenn explained that the ordinance

Mayor Glenn explained that the ordinance governing such matters makes it the duty of he mayor to order the inspectors and city en gineer to examine all dangerous walls and report back to the mayor and council. The later then to order the owner of the building to have the walls taken down. If this is not done within fourteen days the city proceeds to renove thom at the expense of the owner. Mayor Glenn stated that he considered the mergency in this case such that he decided to ake the responsibility of ordering the walls taken down at once, and he found Captain ackson as anxious to have it done as himself. He notified the chief of police to keep the eople off the streets and sidewalks, near the wilding, after he had seen some litile girls picking up scraps of paper near the building.

Mayor Glenn said that he did not believe the accident would have occurred had not the storm came Wednesday. He observed the dden gust from his window, and when he looked for the tottering wall it had fallen. While it was a very sad accident, and had aused him much pain, he did not consider any one to blame in the matter. The firemen were good men in discharge of their duty, and they were under the charge of Chief Joyner, who was trying to extinguish the flames.

THE INSURANCE AGENTS. Mayor Glenn stated that after he had issued the order to have the walls taken down until ere was no danger, several insurance agents had called on him and protested against having them taken down any lower than the inspec-

He stated further that he had already prepared an amendment to the fourteen day ordinance, and should urge the mmediate passage PRICE FIVE CENTS of the law, so as to order the walls, in such cases, to be taken down at once, and avert a repetition of such an accident.

MR. JACKSON'S STATEMENTS.

Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson stated that the police had falon charge of the building immediately after the fire began, and he and his father considered them in charge at the time of the fire.

He corroborated the letter of Captain Jackson to Mayor Glenn in regrrd to having employed Mr. Carbolly to take down the walls, and said that they were both anxious to have the walls taken down as soon as possible. They could not be thrown down without danger, and Mr. Carbolly had the lumber on the ground early Wednesday morning to build the scaffolding nessessary to remove them with safety.

Part of this scaffolding, he said, was now in sosition, and the work was being hurried as Part of this scaffolding, he said, was now in position, and the work was being hurried as fast as possible.

Mr. Tom C. Dodd testified as to how the men were killed by the falling wall, he having seen them as they ran out.

CHIEF JOYNER'S NARRATIVE.

Chief Joyner began at the beginning of the story. He told of how difficult the fire had been to manage, of his notifying Mayor Glemn of the danger of the walls, and how he had gone with his men to the fire in response to a still alarm and telephone calls.

The fire was burning in a lot of cotton batting on the second floor and in a heap of heavy manilla paper in the first story. He had thrown water enough on the fire to float the building, but that the fire would burrow about in the paper and cotton stuff and break out at various points, and they were compelled to keep a constant watch on it to prevent a disastrous conflagration.

They had gone in there to try and get the thrown on the five, and the others had gone up into the second story and were playing a stream on the fire in the batting.

Chief Joyner said that he had always been more careful of his men than they were of themselves. He never sent a man to a place where he would not go himself. He was in there with the men, at work side by side with them and when they ran out they came to them, and when they ran out they came together.

He simply escaped by running a little the faster. When the heavy shock of thunder came he turned and looked foward the Dodd came he turned and looked toward the Dodd building and saw the men on the sidewaik beckening; he cried out to the men to run, and they all sprang forward.

As he passed from under the wall, he glanced upward and saw it descending not ten feet above his head, and the rush of air almost knocked him down as it crashed behind him. He said that firemen were required to sign an agreement that they fully understood the difficulties and accepted the responsibilities of the situation and would not hold the city liable for any damage that might occur to them in the discharge of their duties.

Chief Joyner said that he considered the sad occurrence purely providential. His men died in the discharge of a duty that was unavoidable and he himself only escaped by a hairsbreadth the same fage.

and he himself only escaped by a hairsbreadth the same fate.

In answer to the question as to whether the insurance men had anything to do with directing the work, Chief Joyner said most emphatically that they did not. The men were acting under his orders alone. They were not trying to rescue property, but to get at the fire to prevent it spreading.

FOLEMAN EMMEL.

Foreman Jake Emmel was put upon the stand, and he said that all he could do was to corroborate the statements of his chief. The latter never ordered a man where he would not go himself, and frequently ordered them away from perilous positions.

"He never had en to put up a ladder but from perficus positions.

"He never had me to put up a ladder but what he goes up first himself to see if it is safe," said Mr. Emmel. The jury was but a few minutes in making up its verdict as above

Mayor Glenn Talks.

After the session of the coroner's jury a Constitution man asked Mayor Glena about the matter. The mayor said: "The present ordinances of the city are clear. On a report to the mayor that any buildings or walls are in a dangerous condition, it is the duty of the mayor to direct the building inas to warn the people of the danger.

When asked how the walls should have been taken down, Mr. Leo explained that they could have been thrown down by means of ropes in the way of "a sling" thrown about the mayor and general council can have it the mayor and general council can have it done at his expense. Up to that time they are powerless to interfere. The law gives the owner that length of time in which to remedy the condition of the building, presuming that he will do so as he is liable if any injury hap-

"On Monday morning Chief Joyner reported to me that these Jackson walls were danger-ous and I immediately directed the city engi-neer, and the building inspectors to examine the walls and report their condition. On Tuesday morning they made a report-which has been published in the papers. I at onco delivered this report to Chiel Joyner, with in-structions to show it to Captain Jackson, and request that he have the walls immediately taken down. On Wednesday morning I issued an order to have the walls taken down at once, and sent the order to Captain Jackson. He sealed that he had contracted with M. Co. replied that he had contracted with Mr. Cor-bally and Mr. Lind to have them taken down immediately. Under the ordinances I had no power to issue this order, but I assumed the authority, believing that the emergency would justify it. Mr. Jackson was a anxious as anyone could be to have the walls taken down. I directed the chief of police on Monday and grain on Trackdy to have religences. down. I directed the chief of police on Mon-day and again on Tuesday to have policemen present to keep the people from going near these walls, which was done, and is being done today. At the next meeting of the general council I intend to recommend that the ordi-nance be so changed as to authorize the mayor to act at once upon the report of the building inspectors, and giving him power to order the walls, or buildings, or any other dangerous ob-jects removed without delay."

EASTMAN'S GROWTH

AND THE DELELOPMENT OF DODGE COUNTY.

Comparison of the Present State of Affairs With That of 1830-Increase of Population and Wealth.

EASTMAN, Ga., April 25 .- | Special . |- Alough one of the youngest towns in south Georgia, Eastman is rapidly pushing to the front and is already known as the most progressive town on the East Tennessee road south of Macon. In 1880 Eastman contained only about five hundred people; now there are two thousand. In 1880 there were only four hundred voters in Dodge county; now there are two thousand. Again, in '80 Eastman only received eight business portion of the town, containing about forty stores, is built of brick. They are all solid and substantial structures, and at the same time they give the town a remarkably neat and business-like appearance.

Then again, Eastman has a large and hand-

WINTER RESORT HOTEL, the Uplands, which has just closed after a successful reason. The building is model of architectural beauty. It has model of architectural behavior and accommodations for one hundred and accommodations and is surrounded by fifty guests, and is surrounded by beautiful grounds covered about ten acres of beautiful grounds cover with flowers and fruits. The climate of Eastman is perfect for a water resort, and it will undoubtedly soon become one of the most popular places in Georgia with the northern people. There is already a movement on foot to build another large hotel here, and to make the town second to none as a popular winter

Stores and dwellings are going up on every hand, and Eastman is destined in the near future to be quite a city. And there is no reason why she should not, for no town in Georgia has a better surrounding country. It is rich and productive. The farmers are a bard working and intelligent set, and as a rule are free from debt. They diversify their crops, raise enough of everything for home consumption and have abundance to dispose of.

is in the center of the wire grass region and consequently there are thousands of cattle and onsequently there are thousands of cattle and heep here. It is estimated that there are more than fifty thousand head of sheep in the wool are shipped from Eastman alone annually.

But the great source of revenue for But the great source of revenue for the county is from its lumber and naval store business. It is almost in the center of the great yellow pine fields of Georgia and probably turns out more lumber than any county in the state. There is a MILLION AND A HALF DOLLARS invested in saw mills, and the quality of lumber shipped from here annually is something enormous.

Last year there were one hundred million feet shipped from here, and this year the figures will run above that. The two larger mills — the Amoskeag and the Williams—turn out one hundred thousand feet per day, the former sixty thousand and the latter forty. Then, there are a dozen or more smaller mills in the county. The two larger mills just mentioned are situated almost within Eastman, but in order to get sufficient timber, each of them have railroads running out into the timber belts. The Amoskeag has a railroad fifteen miles in length and the Williams one of ten miles. Both are standard gauge and their rolling stock is first-class.

THE NAVAL STORE INDUSTRY Last year there were one hundred million gauge and their rolling stock is first-class.

THE NAVAL STORE INDUSTRY
here is also very large. There were ten thousand barrels of turpentine and twenty-five thousand of rosin shipped from here last year.

Dodge county is also a great sugar cane, fruit and vegetable country. More syrup is made here than can be disposed of, aithough it is sold as cheap as twenty-eight cents per gallon.

In point of railway advantages Eastman is situated on the main line of the East Tennes-see road, about sixty miles below Macon, and is the point where the Savannah and Western, the point where the Savannah and Western, now under construction, will cross the East Tennessee. Thus, while it now has direct lines to the north and west and to Brunswick, it will soon have a direct line into the coal fields of Alabama and to Savannah. With these railroad connections, and with such enterprising citizens as Eastman can boast of, its rapid progress is assured.

Everyone here has confidence in the future of the fown. The people pull testing and of the town. The people pull together and are determined to make it a great place in the near future. Mr. A. Bishop, a prominent near future. Mr. A. Bishop, a prominent lawyer, and one of Eastman's most progressive citizens, says he believes within the next five years Eastman, which now contains not more than two thousand people, will be a pla at least six thousand, and perhaps ten. indeed growing and everyone here is same opinion as to Eastman's future.

Mr. Norman jumped on an engine as soon as he could get one and statted on a chase after the runaway. Five miles from the city the pursuing engine met the service train coming into the city with the runaway in tow. The runaway had exhausted its steam and stopped two miles east of Pooler, when it was found by the incoming train. No one was hurt and very little damage was done.

EASTMAN, GA., April 25-[Special.]—Hon. John J. Rozar, ordinary of Dodge county, who died last week, has been the efficient ordinary of this county for sixteen consecutive years, and in January last was re-elected for another term. It is a remarkable fact that during his long official carrer that not one of his decisions was ever reversed. He was a man of excellent judgment and extraordinary natural ability, and has been successful both in public and private life. He was a good financier, and it is doubtful whether the affairs of any county in Georgia have been better managed than the affairs of Dodge county were managed by him. Singleton, all of Hall county. As the last sound of the justice's words were lost in the distance, your correspondent wended his way back to his headquarters humming:

"Oh, who would be a bachelor, And pass the vale of life Without the fond caresses Of a young and lovely wife?"

I wish to proclaim to the world what S. S. S. had done for me. For the past ten years I have been troubled with dreadful eruptions on my face, caused by ivy poison. I was under the creatment of a number of physicians, but obtained no relief. I tried the best "blood purifiers" h. m. market, but without avail. I had given up in despair, thinking I could not be cured; but happening to read the Detroit Journal, I noticed S. S. S. advertised and red Mrs. Bradley's testimonial. I thought I would try this remedy. I have taken eight bottles, and there is not a spel on my face. It has also cured mo of chronic catarrh. I have never enjoyed better heaith than at present. THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION $2 A YEAR. SENT TO ANY ADDRESS !

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 26, 1889.

Today's Collections for the Home. The circular of the committee on Memorfal Day collections for the confederate home has been generally distributed, and should find its way into the hands of all who have an abiding interest in this noble work.

It has gone into the stores and into the hands of individuals, and the response ought to be as enthusiastic as that which has greeted every effort of THE CONSTITUTION to raise funds for the Georgia confederate

We print herewith a touching letter that ought to arouse enthusiasm among those who are able to subscribe anything at all. With this letter came 10 cents-truly the widow's mite:

ATLANTA, Ga., April 23 .- Mr. H. W. Grady: My beart rejoiced at the thought of the poor old soldiers having a home, though I have no soldier to rejoice with them. Mg soldier lies beneath the clods of Virginia. I am a soldier's widow, and a very poor one. I have nothing to offer, only my prayers. My portion is a dime-all that I have on earth-and I will leave off my cofice tomorrow and give it as a token of love and respect. Yours, Mrs. S.

Of the thousands that have been subscribed to the Georgia confederate home, there is no contribution more gratefully received than the dime that was enclosed in the foregoing letter. It is the leaven that was needed to sweeten the large lump. It is an example set to people who are much more able to subscribe than the poor widow who, in order to send a dime, is compelled to forego her coffee.

There is no sum too small to add to the list, and while the widow's mite will stand out by itself, it ought to give an impulse to those who have been hesitating to subscribe small sums. There is nothing more beautiful in this world than the heart that gives all it can, and this is what the poor widow has done. Are there not a thousand people in this city who are willing to give all they

The Hawes Trial. Our esteemed contemporary, the Birm-

Ingham Chronicle, flippantly says: The Judge yesterday told the jury in the Hawes case not to read the newspapers. As the newspa-pers worked up this case, they would be the fairest fury in the world to try him.

As we write, there is a newspaper on our desk with an article on the Hawes case headed "The Birmingham Monster." The judge was right in desiring to keep the jury free from such influences. It is not right or safe for the newspapers to work up a case. Every man charged with crime should be tried by a jury, and not by the Hawes may be guilty. If he is, it is to be presumed that the judge and jury will do their duty. It would be a monstrous outrage for any outside influence to attempt before the hearing of the evidence and the argument to control the jury.

Sometimes an innocent man may be the victim of circumstantial evidence or perjured testimony. Under such circumstances the jury should be calm and impartial. Publicaand declaring his guilt should not be read by the men who are to try the case.

No matter how black the case may appear, the man who is on trial for his life is entitled to all the safeguards which the law has wisely thrown around him. If suspicious circumstances can be satisfactorily explained, every opportunity should be allowed for such explanation; and if any of the witnesses are of doubtful character their testimony should be thoroughly sifted. After all this, if a reasonable doubt of the defendant's guilt remains he is entitled to the benefit of that doubt.

These are among the rights of Dick Hawes, and it is to be hoped that popular clamor will have no effect upon the final "Count that day lost, whose low-descending sun Views from thy hand, no worthy action done.

The most rigid scrutiny has failed to find the author of these lines. But they are very true lines.

Today is a day devoted to high thoughts and noble deeds. The subscriptions to the confederate home and to the fund for the fireman's families offer you the opportunity. Let the sun that is mounting to the zenith as you read these words, low-descending this evening close a day that is not lost!

The Oklahoma Victims.

The bottom of the Oklahoma swindle has dropped out.

Some of the statements regarding the duplicity, the corruption and the bulldozing of the government officials interested in the land grabbling game are almost incredible. but unfortunately the story seems to be only too true.

The lands thrown open to the settlers were the most undesirable in that entire region. Thousands of people were entired from their homes by lying descriptions of the "Beautiful Land." They found themselves in a sterile country where they were at the mercy of furious tempests and suffocating clouds of red alkali dust.

Cheated and oppressed, half starved and dying of thirst, there was nothing for these deluded people to do but to struggle wearily back to their old homes or run the gauntlet of the unknown perils in the Cherokee strip The whole chapter is one of the most shameful in the history of our government.

And yet if these Oklahoma settlers had listened to a little good advice they would have been spared this bitter experience. At the very beginning of the craze THE CON-STITUTION warned its readers to let the "Beautiful Land" alone and stick to the old red hills of Georgia. We have here in this favored Piedmont region blessings and potentialities infinitely grander than anything that could be found in a thousand Oklahomas. One does not have far to go in search of both health and wealth in these south Atlantic states, and the outside world is rapidly finding this out. Again, we advise the happy dwellers in these eastern states to stay where they are, and let the wild and woolly west alone. . The Fund for the Firemen's Families.

The movement started by THE CONSTITU-TION yesterday morning for the benefit of the firemen's familes made a good begin-

The appeal met with general approval and quick responses. The Evening Journal, in admirable spirit, took hold of the movement in earnest. It generously headed the list with $50 and put its reporters to canvassing the streets. The result is a subscription of $741, which was reported in their columns yesterday and which stands to the credit of that excellent and enterprising

Messrs. Wellhouse & Sons, in whose establishment the fire began, also seconded the movement and started a list which they headed with $50. Messrs, Paul & Gullatt sent a subscription paper through their establishment with good results. Mr. Pils bury interested himself in the matter and circulated a paper with excellent results. During the day a number of people sent in their contributions to THE CONSTITUTION the names of many of whom are already ptinted in the Journal list which we credit that paper. The names will be found in a separate list this morning, showing the total is neatly above $1,000. It ought easily to go very much higher. Let those who have not already contributed do so today. Send in your names to the Evening Journal, or to any committeeman, who is at work, and the whole list will be printed and summarized in tomorrow's Constitution. Let us all unite and make this a handsome and worthy fund that will not only be a help and comfort to the families of the dead fire men, but a strength and inspiration to their living comrades, whose bravery and devo-tion is the protection of our lives and prop-

General Lawton Abroad. It is exceedingly gratifying to General Lawton's many friends in this country, and especially in Georgia, to hear from every quarter the most complimentary expressions of opinion concerning the manner in which the general discharged the duties of his high position while he was United States minister at Vienna.

General Lawton's ability, zeal, amiability and dignity produced a very favorable impression at the Austrian court, and the press and society of Vienna bear enthusiastic test!mony to the tact and refinement of the gracious, gentle and gifted lady who aided her husband in doing the honors of the American legation.

In this instance the country has been signally fortunate in its representatives at one of the oldest and proudest courts in Europe.

nounce it the most beautiful church wedding ever seen in Atlanta. The altar was a mass of roses against rich foliage, and the pulpit was banked with beautiful palms and flowers.

The bridal party marceed in to the grand strains of Mendlessohn's wedding march, the bride walking in upon the arm of her father, Mr. G. W. Goldsmith, and the groom entering with his best man, Mr. J. Frank Meador.

The attendants were Misses Adeline Adair, Dessa Dougherty, Lily Orme, Sallie Meador, Mary Eila Reid, Julia Hemmond, Willie Bell, Saille Sanders, Annie Meador, Lily Goldsmith, Mr. White and Mr. Bailey of Griffin, Mr. Hickey, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Frank B. Meador, Mr. Charles Eckford of Dawson Rev. Dr. McDonald performed the ceremony with eloquence and grace, and it was a most beautiful wedding.

A fairer bride was never led to the altar. She wore a gown of pure white China silk, with a long court train, the panel on one side being formed of duchess lace, and the front and other side draperies being made of stripes of duchesse lace and silk. The bodice was high with a ve t formed of folds of silk and finished on and either side with duchesse lace. The elbow sleeves were puffed at top and tucked, the tucks being out-lined by delicate rows of silk briar stitching. Her ornaments were magnificent diamonds, and her weil was confined to her gold brown hair by a spray of priceless pearls. She carried a large bouquet of bride roses and maiden hair fern. She was a vision fair to see—pure and beautiful beyond description. The bridesmaides twere all remarkably lovely girls, and their beauty was displayed to great ad-vantage by exquisite gowns of cream silk mul-over cream surah, the mull draperies falling in pleats from waist to hem; over this, flong stream rs and straight loops of ribbon of different lengths. The V cut bodices were ornamented with a pleated mull ruffle, edged with narrow cream ribbon, this falling over in Bertha style, and around the waist was a deep belt formed of folded cream surah. Half of the young ladies carried cream and half pink roses, and the gentlemen's boutonniers were arranged in the same way.

The party walked out of the church to the notes of the beautiful Tanahauser wedding march.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the bride's handsome home on Peachtree. The house was brilliantly lighted by electricity, and the pro fusion of roses and foliage made it a very wilderness of fragrant and beautiful blossoms. In the sitting room on the right the musicians were placed, and all during the evening soft sounds mingled their sweetness with that of the flowers. The musiroom was adorned in cream and crimson roses and all the mantels had some beautiful design in roses against a background of palms and ferns.

The mantel in the supper room was filled and banked with this rich foliage. Its center piece was a star of roses, the center being deep crimson, and the colors graduating to paler shades until it reached flesh color at the point. The table was a symphony in color and a perfect picture in artistic decoration. The chan-deliers were hung with smilax and twined with pink ribbous which reached to the table below. which was scattered over with mareschal neil and pink roses so that no portion of the linen was visible. The center ornament was an immense bank o cream and pink roses with the letters C and G. in the center in cream buds and bowls of marcschal neil and La France blossome formed the other floral ornaments. Two bride cakes one of pure white adorned with lilies, the other pink and decorated with white roses, were lovely ornaments, besides the tropical fruits an ranged in silver and cut glass stands. In a silve plate were placed little pink and white heart cakes To each was attached a strip of white ribbon adorned with an appropriate verse in gold letters. These cakes were drawn for by the attendants, the pink for the ladies and the white for the gentlemen former containing rings and the latter pretty gold scarf pins. The room was illuminated by pink candles and gas jets shining through colored globes. The galcoves and corners banked with palms and ornamented with stands of roses. The long handsome drawing rooms were filled with cream and pink roses and beautif palms. In the second drawing room the present Everything that a young housekeeper could de

Mr. and Mrs. Cauthorn left for a tour north at 1 p. m., amid the congratulations of a host of friends, who wish them every happiness that they both so richly deserve. Miss Goldsmith during her debut two winters ago, has been justly considered one of the most beautiful and brilliant young ladies in Atlanta society. Her love liness of nature, her charming, unaffected manner have made her universally beloved, and the man who has won her deserves every congratulation. Mr. Cauthorn, since his residence in Atlanta, has won the universal good opinion of the peeple by

Mr. Smith moved the adoption of the rule as recommended by the committee on rules.

Mr. Moran took the floor and strongly opposed the rule. He said that the board of education was a public body, and that the public had a right to know of its actions. He did not recognize the right of the board of getting in ormation from intelligent citizens in reference to the report and would vote upon it in May to the bost of his ability.

Mr. Moran read from the act of the legislature authorizing the mayor and council to establish the public schools, and the ordinance of the council enumerating the powers of the board of education. He showed that no authority was given the board over individuals members. The people are interested in the books to be studied by their children, and he contended that the members of the board had a right to give them information about them and get their vievs in return.

[Mr. Smith said that he would give the reasons which prompted the committee on text books to recommend the rule.

The annual report of the committee is handed to the board in April, and kept for one month before action upon it by the board, in order hat the members may study it thoroughly before taking final action at the May meeting. The reasons for keeping the contents of the report secret were that the town was full of representatives of book concerns, and if the contents of the report secret were made public the committee and members of the board would be greatly annoyed by solicitors. Ordinarily, the public bade of the report secret until it was inally acted o

Judge Hammond favored the report in part. He agreed with Mr. Moran that the board had not the power to impeach—but though that part could be stricken out and the rest of the rule adopted.

Mr. Bray objected to this view. He did not see how the board could have a rule which simply amounted to a request which would bind only those who voted for it. He wanted to know how a body could adopt a rule and fix no penalty for its' violation.

Mr. Thompson thought the rule could be sustained. The board have the right of impeachment—but he did not know whether they would exercise it. Mr. Moran says he will not respect the rule.

Mr. Moran said he spoke as a member of the board Mr. Moran said he spoke as a member of the board and not as an employe of THE CONSTITUTION. willing to agree not to talk to book agents about the report.

Mr. Bray asked to be allowed to withdraw the report of the committee. It seemed that the board had no right to make rules, except for superintendents and teachers—could make none for the board. If that was the position he would not report any more rules for the would not report any more rules for the government of the board. He had reported this rule at the request of the board. He declared that unless a rule was obligatory upon a body it would be nil.

Mr. Moran said: "The city council is supposed to elect men of probity and intelli, ence to the board of education—men who know when to hold their tongues. I differ hones! ye from members, and don't think it proper for aspersions to be east on members, I oppose this rule because it tends to star chambers, rings, bargains. These words do not apply to the present nor to this board, but people may come after us on this board in the mutations of polities who would take corrupt advantage of an unwise rule like this. Therefore, I say let the light shine through our actions."

Mr. Bishop agreed with Mr. Moran.

Mr. Smith stated that he had just been informed by a member of the board that a certain book agent knew all about the contents of the report of the committee on text books. He was satisfied that this was true—and moved that the report be read.
The motion was adopted, and Mr. Bianchard read the report.
It recommends that Smith's Physiology be substituted for Johonnate's Physiology, and that Wells's Science of Common Things and Mason's National Mosle Reader be added to the li-t in the grammar schools; and that Harkness Latin grammar take the place of Andrews and Stoddard's; that Robinson's Higher Progressive arithmetic be substituted for Sanford's Higher Analytical arithmetic, and that Voltaire's La Hendride be read instead of Flenry's Histoire de France in the high schools. There were two minority reports—one of Judge Hammond, who wants Appleton's arithmetic in the grammar schools; the other by Messrs, Koutz and Bishop, who want sanford's arithmetic retained in the high schools.

Dr. John J. Lafferty Will Lecture on OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION YES-"Lack of Luck With Lee." TERDAY AFTERNOON. Dr. Lafferty, probably the most humorous nd pathetic speaker in America, will lecture for A Spley Discussion On the Report of the Committhe benefit of the Confederate Monument associa the benefit of the Confederate Monument association. This much may be said, if you want to hear wit and humor for an hour, if you want to "die laughing," don't miss the occasion. The proceeds are to be devoted to a good cause—a cause that is dear to every southern heart and one that is just now enthusing Georgia from the mountains to the sea. Come out; you will feel better after hearing this becture. In Legicia to the sea, and Educe the New Advanced to the New Advanced tee On Rules in Reference to the Changing of the Text Books, Ending in the Withdrawal of The board of education had a lively ression The fight was over an attempt to change the rules of the board.

Come out; you will feel better after hearing this lecture. Dr. Lafferty is funnier than Nye and Riley combined. To look at him is to laugh. The Lynchburg News says:

"Dr. Lafferty, of Richmond, gave our people quite a treat in the way of a lecture Saturday night last. The doctor demonstrated unmistakably his right to be classed as a humorist of the first order."

The Nashville Advocate, in speaking of his lecture in Nashville, says:

The fight was over an attempt to change the rules of the board.

Immediately after the board met Mr. Bray, from the committee on rules, submitted a report which precipitated a lively discussion.

Section 7 of article 3, of the rules governing the board of education, is to this effect:

"The committee on course of study and text books shall annually examine the course of the study prescribed for the schools and shall recommend to the board at the regular meeting in April of each year such improvements in the course of study and such changes in the text books as they may deem expedient, and no changes in the text books shall be made unless referred to the committee and adopted by the board. In the execution of these duties, the committee shall have the aid of the superintendent, and may likewise call the principals of schools to their assistance. The report of the committee shall lie on the table till the May session following, until final action by the board."

That is the section.

At the last meeting of the board Mr. Blanchard, chairman of the committee on course of study and text books, suggested that some rule of secrecy be formulated in reference to this annual report made by his committee. The matter was referred to the committee on rules.

It was on this matter that Mr. Bray, as chairman be classed as a humorist of the first order."

The Nashville, says:

"A lecture from Dr. Lafferty on "Luck and Pluck," on Friday night, drew a full house. It was a marvelous composite—classical, humorous, suggestive. The appletuse and laughter were fimmense. Dr. Lafferty is at home when he is on the stage. He has powers that would have made him a second Booth had he given his talent that bent. The Richmond State says of him:

Laurel Street church was filled last night by an audience drawn from all sections of the city to hear Rev-Dr. Lafferty tell about "Pluck and Luck." The doctor undertook to prove that these elements won in the battle of fife, quoting Malvolio on greatness achieved and Solomon on chance, that the race is not to the swift. Many curious classical illustrations were brought out to show that great victories were by accident. The opinions and records of Casar, Sylla, Napoleon, Wellington and Stonewall Jackson were given on this point. The revolutionary war was sketched to prove that pure luck saved the "sires of 76." A list of queer accidents were recited, all helping in a critical moment the continental army. The doctor nartated several bad turns of fortunes to the southern confederacy, each one giving a deadly stab. There was a humorous current all through the lecture, and now and then a pi.-ce of uproarious fun, as in the illustration of "git," by the manner and bearing of the city billy-goat and the country dog or the Virginian, when the stars fell in 1833.

The lecture was closed with an eloquent peroration on the bad fortune of the southern confederacy. ommittee on rules. It was on this matter that Mr. Bray, as chairman on the committee on rules, reported yesterday.

Mr. Bray, in his report, recommended the adoption of a new rule which was in the nature of an amendment to the last sentence in section 7th, nutoted above. amendment to the last sentence in section 7th, quoted above.

It was to this effect:

"That the report of the commit ee on text books shall ite on the table till the May session following before final action by the board, and that it any member of the board shall, before action upon this report, speak of any of its contents to anybody he shal be liable to impeachment by the board, and if the superintendent or principal of any school shall divulge the contents of said report, or any part thereof, dismissai from office shall be the penalty."

goat and the country dog or the Virginian, when the stars fell in 1833.

The lecture was closed with an eloquent peroration on the bad fortune of the southern confederacy. The lecturer said neither Spartan band nor Roman legion showed the plack of the "incomparable infantry of the Army of Northern Virginia," as the not thern historian, Mr. Swinton, called that noble body of troops, but they had no luck. After telling of fatal mishaps of fortune, Dr. Lafferty declared the genius of the union was against us. "In the future another Homer will sing the lifted of the south in pathetic numbers to listening and lamenting ages—the sad story of a nation that fell by the decrees of destiny without a crime and without a coward." The lecture was often applauded.

Now after you have spent this day in commemorating our dead, attend the lecture at DeGives tonight and help out a cause that we know you approve.

O happy morn! The Lord will come
And take His waiting people home
Beyond the reach of care.
The resurrection morn will break
And every sleeping saint awake
Brought forth in life again.
O, morn! too bright for mortal eyes;
When all the ransomed church shall rise
And what their way to yonder skies—
Called up with Christ to reign.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 25. - In the stock market to-NEW YORK. April 25.—In the stock market to-day was more active and decidedly stronger than at any time during the past two weeks, and while the aggregate of business done was not very large, the gains at the close of business were universal, and the material improvement in the temper of specula-tion was somewhat of a surprise to the local traders who had expected nothing but duliness and stag-nation until ofter the coming holidays, but the im-partus came from the other side, where the firmness displayed by American securities and the nuveral displayed by American securities and the unusual case of money in London have generated strong speculative sontiment on American stocks. Buying orders from London were very large, and were variously estimated up to 60,000 shares, and the London favorities were leaders. London favorites were leaders in the market, and Louisville and Nashville was specially prominent, though the foreigners took the lines of the Red-ing, Union Pacific, Norfolk and Western preferred and some others. Richmond and West Point, Mising, Union Facilic, Norfolk and Western preferred and some others. Richmond and West Point, Missouri Pacific and Texas Pacific, which have laft almost dormant for some time, advanced materially on a largely increased business, and the best price were generally reached toward delivery hour, buthere was no marked necession after that time until the market closed active and from a advant the high were somewhat neglected, and the movements were confined to the smallest fractions, and Brunswick was a shade lower at 99%. With the single exception of Memphis and Charleston, which retired 4 per cent, the entire list is higher tonight, and Oregon Improvement preferred rose 3½. Pullman 2, Louisville and Neshville 134, Manitoba 1½, Burlington and Quincy and Texas Pacific 1½, each, Lake Shore, Eric preferred, Missouri Pacific, Richmond and West Point and Union Pacific 1 per cent each, and others fractional amounts. NEW YORK, April 25.—[Special.]—Hubbard, Price & Co., in their cotton circular, says: Liver pool advice this morning were of a very favorable, tenor, contrary to the expectations of those who had looked for our market to be influenced by our decline of yesterday. Notices were issued this morning for some 10,000 bales by those who have been carrying it for interest purposes, as the difference had decreased to a point that made it no longer profitable, and they were wilking that others should be allowed to carry the cotton. These notices at first exerted a depressing influence on prices, but it prices ran off two to four points. The protection given to the netices, which were stopped early in the day and entirely disappeared before noon, and the remarkable strength in May contracts, turned the sentiment to one of confidence and with good buying the early months steadily advanced nine and ten points, and closed at top figures for the day. The quotations show a net gain over yesterday's closing of 14 and 10 points in April and May, respectively: 7 to 8 points in the rest of this crop options, and 3 to 4 points in the next crop months. The feeling is builtish and confidence is much options, and 3 to 4 points in the next crop months. The feeiling is buillish and confidence is much greater now that it is reasonably certain all the May tenders will be taken care of, and the southern markets are firm, Charleston reporting an advance of 1/c and Norfolk 1-16c. Our spot market is firm and unchanged; in quotations, middling 10 10-16. The cotton exchange rejected the proposed holiday on Mondry, but the legislature today passed a bill making Mondry. Tuesday and Wednesday legal holidays, and if this is approved by the governor, the exchange will be closed on those days. Our valued correspondents, Memphis, St. Louis, Atlanta and Angusta report their respective markets almost valued correspondents, Memphis, St. Louis, Atlanta and Augusta report their respective markets almost bare of spot cotton and from information we receive daily from other important points, indicate a rapid exhaustion of swocks, which is conducive to a higher market.

WITH THE VETERANS.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING LAST NIGHT IN THEIR HALL.

The Annual Meeting of the Confederate Veterans' Association Was Held Last Night-There Were Freeches by General Lee, General Young and Others-Memorial Day Today.

The "rebel yell" was heard time and again last night in the hall of the confederate vet-

The occasion was the annual meeting of the Fultou county association, but the enthusiasm was called forth by the presence of General Rooney Lee and other well known confederate officers, who made patriotic and elequent speeches. The hall overflowed with veterans, speeches. The hall overflowed with veterans, and the meeting was one of the largest and best attended that the association has held.

The exercises were opened by prayer from Chaplain Cleveland, and President Calhoun immediately brought the veterans down to work. The treasurer reported a balance of $2,384.29 on hand, and the secretary, Major J. F. Edwards, reported $450 as the collections for the year from fees. Dr. K. C. Divine, as surgeon, and Dr. Roach, from the relief committee, also made reports.

GENERAL LEE SPEAKS.

At this juncture, General W. H. F. Lee, Colonel T. H. Carter, Rev. Dr. J. William Jones, were escorted to the hall by a committee consisting of Captain Milledge, Dr. James F. Alexander, Dr. K. C. Divine, Dr. Amos Fox and Colonel Joseph Van Holt Nash. The distinguished gentlemen were received standing, and then President Lowndes Calhoun, in elequent terms, introduced General Lee as the second son of "the grandest man the world ever produced." The rebel yell almost raised the roof. General Lee arose and made a feeling and elequent address.

General Lee spoke for ten minutes, and was constantly interrupted by applause. When he concluded a perfect storm of cheers greeted him.

DR. J. WILLIAM JONES.

President Calhoun introduced Dr. J. William Jones, who told an incident of army life, where an opportunity was given a general officer to make a daring and dashing exploit, but one which would risk the lives of many men. The officer refused, declaring he would not send the humblest private soldier where he himself would not go.

"That man," said Dr. Jones, "was General W. H. F. Lee. He won his spurs, not because he was a son of Robert E. Lee; he won them in spite of that fact, for if there was any one thing that R. E. Lee did not favor, it was nepotism."

General P. M. B. Young was called upon, and responded by saying the veterans would hear from him tomorrow. General Young will deliver the memorial address.

Colonel T. H. Carter, commissioner of the Southern Railway and Steamship association, was next called upon. Colonel Carter regretted he was not a public speaker, and called upon Captain Milledge. The captain responded with an eloquent speech, in which he urged the importance of contributing towards the erection of headboards over the graves of Georgians buried at Holywood, near Richmond. Boxes will be placed at the cemgraves of Georgians buried at Holywood, near Richmond. Boxes will be placed at the cemetery gates today to receive such contributions. After Captain Milledge's address a recess was taken, and the veterans crowded about General Lee and were introduced to him by President Calhoun. After a few minutes thus spent General Lee and his companions left the hall, and the association settled down to business.

Getting down to business.

A committee was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions upon the death of comrades A. B. Culberson, C. R. Welborn, W. G. Newman and John W. Owens, who departed this life during the past year. Captain Commally reported the new constitution, which was read by sections and adopted. The association then proceeded to the election of officers and the following gentlemen were elected:

Human nature is always lacking something.
Oftentimes it were better off without its wishes, yet it is universally conceded that no permanent enjoyment can be had without the savor of health, which keeps good cheer fresh and preserves and sweetens life for the future.

The grain of salt is wanting.

It cannot be done with stimaliants, which but spur on the overworked nerves to fresh efforts, only to leave them more jaded and shattered. Nor with narcotics, which temporarily soothe, but to create an unnatural appetite, the terrors of which a De Quincy has so graphically portrayed.

It may be asked, what is the cause of this extreme nervousness, lack of appetite, lung trouble, deficient heart action, failing eyesight, apopletical tendency, etc. We reply, poisoned blood, caused by diseased kidneys, and the troubles indicated are after all, but symptoms of advanced Kidney Disease, which is but another name for Bright's Disease. Now, in the spring of the year, owing to the extra work which has been put upon the Kidneys and Liver, through a meat diet during the winter months, these symptoms are more pronounced, and the danger to the patient correspondingly increased. It is therefore imperative that the poisoned blood be eradicated, and that the Kidneys be put in complete health, which can be speedily and effectually accomplished by the use of Warner's Safe Cure, a tried and proved specific in hundreds of thousands of cases.

Two or three years ago a negro boy on my place near Franklin, Ky., was tounented with an epparently incurable case of scrofula, which lasted him a long time and gave him great trouble! Something Astounding About Crime, if Tue, and Should be Investigated.

Is crime on the increase? This question has been agitating the public mind for some time; the expression of opinion have been varied, but a preponderance of evidence goes to show that it is increasing. What is the cause of this increase, the same may be said of this. Many causes are assigned, but few will admit that in the progress and enlightenment of this age that we are taking a backward step in anything; but agures are against us, and "figures will not lie." A still graver question for us to consider, is dis-case increasing? If so, how can we prevent it? From the most reliable information we conclude that disease is rapidly on the increase. The causes of same are as varied as diseases themselves. Among the most prolific in results is our excessive eating and drinking, and our neglect of disease in its carlier stages, leaving it alone until our systems fail to longer stand the extra strain placed upon it. Nothing can be truer than this. "Outraged nature

You may be a sufferer from piles or some other disease of the lower bowel that you consider sligh and therefore neglect, but the time will come when it will be a grave matter with you, producing effects disastrous to your physical and mental health. Is is not best for you to attend to this early for it will cost you less in suffering and fiancially, and it can cure you without the semblauce of pain and without loss of time. Can you afford to procrastinate and take the risk? I can and will prove to you what I say if you will give me a chance. Call and see me, or write for further inormation. I will be glad to aid you

Stopped Taking Morphine.

Charleston, S. C., April 16, 1888

Dean Sine—With much pleasure I am happy to say I am a well woman today, and have gained 37 pounds since I stopped taking morphine. After taking the first dose of your medicine did not want any more morphine, and my friends who saw me a month before I started to taking your medicine do not know me. You have made me a well and hearty woman, and I hope God will blees you and that you may cure all afflicted, for when a woman gets into the habit she had as well be dead. When I left Codar Keys and came here, and when your medicine gave out I was all right, I wanted to wait and see if I would remain so. Doctor, you can use my name if you wish. I was taking six grains morphine a day. Your obedient servant and sir, cere friend, JOSEY MARSHALL, 157 Market St., Charleston, S. O

THE SEWERS AND SIDEWALKS. The Injunction Case and Mr. Venable's

Comments Thereon.
EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Mr. Venable has been jensistent in thrusting forward the Chattaloo chee Brick company as a party to the controversy before the city council over the letting of contracts for the laying of sidewalks and for the construction of sewers. This has been unwarranted, for this company has not been connected with such work, except that we have been furnishing brick to the contractors for some years read and the contractors for some years past and for the reason that such material was better and cheaper than could be obtained by the contractor elements.

This statement, we are informed, has been made publicly by Mr. D'Alvigny and Backus, and has been coupled with the further statement that they did not represent the Chritahoochee Brick company, by t were free to obtain material from other sources, and would do so if they could get what was acceptable to the city at a less price. The fact that my company was not committed and was free to sell material to other contractors, was also known sell material to other contractors, was also known to Mr. Vennble, because he applied to us for a less price than we would sell to others, in order that he might get control of the building of sewers, we declared his request, with the information to him that our material would be open to all contractors, or words to that effect. After this it appears that, the opposition to Messas. D'Alvigny and Backus was organized, although Mr. Venable, we are informed, gave no date to the council of the time Mayor Glenn sent for him and requested him to become a cangetion, or to organize competition. Of course, we recognize the right of Mr. Venable, Mr. Pease or Mr. Palmer to compete for public work, and we recognize the duty of the city government to get the best work for the least money. We may, however, be permitted to say that we do not recognize the right of any person to obtain, or the city government to give public parronage in other than the modes pointed out by law, and we do think that it Messas. D'Alvigny and Backus have been treated as they allege, they have the right to complain.

Our company was not a party to the contraversy been treated as they alege, they have the right to complain.

Our company was not a party to the contraversy before the council, and is not a party to the bill now pending. It has sought no notoriety about this matter and has given none to anybody. All, that has been said and done to bring us into this contraversy has been either by Mr. Venable or the honorally nayor. As to Mr. Venable or the was informed that we could not give him a less price than we were willing to give others, he might at least have let us alone and gone on with his proposed opposition. His honor, the mayor, has belonged to a firm with has received in fees in the neighborhool of $20,000 from convict less ees, and the money paid by him was produced, it may fairly be supposed, by convict labor, and while he was receiving it he never once complained. All this hue and cry against convict labor, and while he was receiving it he never once labor, and while he was receiving it he never once complained. All this hue and cry egainst convict material is made for effect. Our company has a conting t with the state, and one of the works or labor assigned for convicts is the making of brick. The criminal class, the law says, must be punished, and it would seem unfair tout parties who contract with the state should be attacked in this way because the tax payers of Atlanta, of their representative heretofore, as good and as honorable as the present government, have seen fit to use the Chattahoochie river brick as cheaper and better material than any other. It is charged that a great many brick gards were here before this company started business. There were never half so many as charged, and if they quit business because the Chattahoochee Brick company undersold them, it is abo true that the taxpayers derived the benefit of the competition. We are aware that it will be resplied. the competition. We are aware that it will be replied that the taxpayers derived the benefit of the competition. We are aware that it will be replied that the contractor and not the tax payers were benefited, but the fact that the people have been supplied with a better and cheaper brick than before is soo well known to need assertion or poof. This company has received the same price for brick used in sewers and sidewalks or every year since 1855, and in that year the tamed the contractor. same price for brick used in sewers and sidewalks for every year since 1855, and in that year the price named the contractor was so low that there was no profit but a loss to us. Our company made no attempt this year to rake the price and had no expectation of doing so in the future. We regret this public controversy and only resort to it because we have been unnecessarily paraded before the public for effect. D'Alviguy & Backus daim to have gone before the council tecking what they deemed fair play, a chance to compete with legal and requiar bids. Having been defeated there, they have gone to the course. They appear to be making a fight on the legality of these contracts (we have not read their bill, but gather it from the newspapers).

to seek to prevent the violation of the charter, yet it has been made, and we suppose the courts will deed the what is the law, notwithstanding the opinions of the mayor, the newspaper talk of Mr. Veunble, or the question of whether brick are made by convicts or by one or by two monopolies. Respectable.

J. W. English, President.

A Firm in This City Interested in the Business-Some Facts About It. No doubt it will surprise you to learn that we have a man in this city engaged in selling royal personages, but such is the fact. There is an island in the Indian ocean by the name of Sumatra. It is one of the East India islands, and has its shores continually washed by the warm waters of the Indian ocean. It is a wonderful island. Its people are ruled by a wicked and cruel king, who has done much to retard the growth and prosperity of this beautiful island. The royal house consists of a large number of people, and while they are sold and trafficked in their native country, they are appreciated in most every part of the civilized world.

The people of that country are famous for their agricultural pursuits. They grow finest coffee, the richest dye stuffs, the finest fruits and the most famous tobacco in the world. In this latter product probably Sumatra is ahead of all other nations of the world. The cigars made in this country wrapped in Sumatra leaf are such as command the highest price. The cigars made in Sumatra are called Kings, and it is this regal vending that is referred to in this article. We do not mean to say that real live human kings are bartered in this far off isle, but the very best smoking Kings in the world. They are known in this country as the "Three Kings" cigar, and are sold by the trade generally. The live and energetic house of Harraison Bros. & Co., opposite the Kimball, in this city, are engaged in selling them. They are the regal venders, and wel do they deserve the name, for the "Three Kings" cigar is known everywhere as the best on the market. It is mild, pleasant and just such a cigar as you want. The consort of the "Three Kings" is known by the name of "Rabbit Foot." These two cigars constitute a most happy family and agreeable to bibical philosophers, they "let their light shine." Their lives are consumed in making other lives happy. This is a noble sacrifice, and one that is not without its reward. Now the whole thing is with you. If you smoke good cigars—those that are of exceedingly high standard- it will be to your interest to call for the "Three Kings" and "Rabbit If you do not smoke good cigars-but cheap conglomerated stuff—you are advised to let the "Three Kings" and "Rabbit Foot" alone. Try the cigars of the age. sun wd fri

When he gets this factory thoroughly equipped it will be one o the best in the south. He employs 20 to 25 hands all from Cuba, and they are the best cigar makers in Havana. He makes fine cigars from 10 cents up. Uses only imported Cuban tobacco. His customers are among the best business and professional men special brands for them, and if you are not a pairon of his become one, and thus smoke a genuine Havana. There is no difference between the clears Mr. Cuesta makes and the imported Havana. This enterprise of Mr. Cuesta shows just what can be done in this line right here in our city. He works 2) to 25 hands and could sell the products of 100 hands, so many are his orders. Mr. Cuesta has made a name and it is at the top in the fine eigar trade.
